A forwarded order is an instruction in which a client specified a specific execution venue before execution.

Summary and conclusions based on the quality control assessment of execution of transactions with investment instruments at execution venues

If the Bank does not have a direct access to the markets where some product types are traded, it forwards an order to a third party that is authorized to provide investment services and is obliged to have its own policy of executing orders.

Orders related to investing in collective investment funds are forwarded directly to the issuer of the share certificate or to its distributor.

When executing clients' orders the Bank takes into account all the criteria and requirements under Article 64 (Best Execution Criteria) of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/565 of 25 April 2016 supplementing Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council as regards organizational requirements and operating conditions for investment firms and defined terms for the purposes of that Directive, in order to determine the relative importance of the factors referred to in § 15l and § 15n of the ACMU.

Critical factors when executing clients' orders are liquidity, speed, probability of execution and settlement, volume, nature or other aspect relevant to the execution of the order, in addition to the total cost.

The Bank took into account the following criteria:

- a) characteristics of a client, including client's categorization, i.e. whether it is a non-professional or professional client;
- b) characteristics of a client's order, including whether the order is linked to a Structured Finance Transaction (SFT);
- c) characteristic features of the financial instruments which are the subject of the client's order;
- d) characteristics of execution venues which the order can be forwarded to.
